America's Credit Union Joins Credit Union 24 Network

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – June 29, 2009 – Credit Union 24, the country's largest credit union-owned ATM and point-of-sale (POS) network, announced today that America's Credit Union, a financial services provider for employees of some of the nation's largest companies, has joined its network.

"With a majority of our members being employed by nationally recognized companies and brands, joining the Credit Union 24 network was an easy decision in consideration of our membership because of the national fee-free access the network provides," said Joe Wasaff, President and CEO of America's Credit Union. "By joining the nation's largest surcharge-free ATM network, our members can reap the money-saving benefits of our credit union throughout the entire country, whether they are traveling for business or for pleasure."

Headquartered in Garland, Texas with more than 20,000 members and $142 million in assets, America's Credit Union has served its members for 75 years, offering an array of financial services to current and retired employees and their families of companies including Kraft Foods, Inc., Raytheon, Sherwin Williams and Phillip Morris. America's Credit Union's mission is to "empower member-owners to improve their economic well-being."

"The Credit Union 24 network mirrors the long-standing customer service standards set by America's Credit Union and enhances them with national financial access, adding value to the credit union membership of one of the country's largest employee bases," said Jim Park, president and CEO of Credit Union 24. "We are very pleased to have the employees of these successful companies join the network and have a voice and a choice in its future direction."
