Catholic Credit Union joins Credit Union 24 Network

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – September 28, 2009 – Credit Union 24, the country's largest credit union-owned ATM and point-of-sale (POS) network, announced today that Catholic Credit Union has joined its network.

"We're known for offering our members some of the most competitively priced loan and savings products while upholding our commitment to personalized service, courtesy and convenience," said Paul Regimbal, CEO of Catholic Credit Union. "Combining the Credit Union 24 network with our advanced online banking options allows our members unprecedented access to their funds. Now, our members can entrust their finances to our local, familiar credit union yet have national financial access through Credit Union 24's extensive network of fee-free ATM and POS terminals, offering greater ease and flexibility for members' financial transactions."

Catholic Credit Union was established in 1951 to serve the Catholic community in Yakima County, Washington. Today, Catholic Credit Union has more than $173 million in assets and more than 17,000 members from all faiths who live, work, worship or attend school in the credit union's nine-county region. The credit union offers services ranging from free online bill pay to an automated touchtone teller.

"Catholic Credit Union is known for providing quality customer service, and by joining the credit union-owned Credit Union 24 network, it has ensured even greater care and convenience for its members," said Jim Park, president and CEO of Credit Union 24. "Catholic Credit Union's increasingly mobile members are now able to travel the country with the comfort of knowing they can access their funds at any time, aligning perfectly with Catholic Credit Union's delivery of putting members' needs first."
